Partnering with America's universities to advance the future of our nation's heroes.

Military-connected students* embody dedication to service, bringing with them years of invaluable experience, leadership, and skills to the campus environment. However, these unique life experiences position them beyond the conventional student profile of a recent high school graduate.

In collaboration with America's universities, the National Veterans Leadership Foundation is dedicated to supporting those who have served our country. By fostering programs and services, the foundation assists military-connected students in adjusting and thriving, both academically and socially, as they embark on their educational journey.

* Military-connected students include veterans, active duty, reserve, National Guard, ROTC, spouses and dependents.

LEADERSHIP THAT DRIVES CHANGE

NVLF uses an integrated strategy to improve the higher education experience for military students. Our programs:

EMPOWER STUDENTS AS LEADERS

Military Community Advocates: Student leaders who serve as Advocates receive a service scholarship for their work building more military-inclusive policies and programs in departments across campus.

Student Programs: A range of programs designed to inspire students to step into leadership roles during their time on campus. This includes the Leadership Fellows program, which brings top Military Community Advocates from across all campuses for a three-day, in-depth workshop.

ENGAGE CAMPUS LEADERSHIP

NVLF Affiliated Institutions: NVLF partners with universities to develop best practice programming and shared knowledge that contributes to the success of military-connected students:

- National Partners: Core consortium of leading universities that help develop, implement and advance NVLF programs.
- Ohio Alliance: NVLF's first statewide alliance brings together more than 50 public and private colleges and universities in Ohio committed to better serving their military-connected students.
- Big 10 Alliance: A new partnership that provides broader exposure to NVLF programs to military-connected students at public and private institutions across the country.

Digital Resource Hub: An online database of ready-to-use resources for military-veteran offices designed to support the replication of high-impact military-veteran programs.

GROW COMMUNITY SUPPORT

Advancement Institute: An annual institute that brings together campus teams (including mil-vet directors, development officers, marketing and career resource leaders) to grow both internal and external support for mil-vet students.

Advancement Awards: Seed funding for events and activities that increase the visibility of military students on campus while also bringing community leaders and supporters to campus.

BUILD CAREER PARTNERSHIPS

Service Gradlign: A powerful online job bank designed with Oplign.com to help military students align their skills and education and apply for current job openings.

Entrepreneurs Alliance: A partnership with university entrepreneurship centers that recruits and serves veterans and other military-connected students who want to build businesses.
